he had sent andually 80,000 large bried fish. He pointed out to us the best filling ground, shout one mile and a half to the Southward of the entrance to the Basin, in 28 fathoms water, where two boats caught about five tons of Fish In about two hours, a sort of Coel of excellent quality, in fact their number seemed inexhaustible.

On the sides of the hills which surround the Basin we found cabbages, turnips, parsley, & other herbs, (seeds having been sowed by this) man) so that the whole face of the mountain was covered with vegetables sufficient for the refreshment of many ships crews. This Frenchman had also bred a great number of Hogs. Goats, and Fowls-many of the former were running wild about the Island, so that there is no doubt that in a short time a ship touching at the Island will be able to procure 'a considerable addition to her live stock-He presented us with two Pigs and a few Seal skins, The Basin abounds with Graw fish, many of which we caught and boiled in the hot springs which are numerous on its margin, and most of them are sufficiently hot to cook provisions of any sort in a short time. Smake issued from many parts of the mountain, but we did not perceive any flams.

We made this Island under the idea of finding a barren useless rock, but on the contrary we found it an agreeable place, abounding with Vegetables, procuring Fish for our whole crew and soldiers, and receiving addition to our live stock.

The Birds which principally inhabit the Island are akind of Silver, Pettrel with red bills and webb feet, their nests are numerous, amongst the reeds and stones around the

The Frenchman was very obliging, and most anxious to obtain any seeds which might improve the stock of his settlement.

Whilst the ship was hove to, we saw the Island of Amsterdam from her deck, bearing N. distant about

The Emperor Alexander.

Extract from a speech of Lord Holland in the British house of Peers concerning the attack of the Allies upon Naples.

"Even Russia had allowed that the Spanish constitution, which has been adopted by Naples, was one with which peace may be maintained; but the objection of Russia was not now the democratic tendency of that constitution, but to the manner in which it has been established .-Strange objections, indeed, to a constitution good in itself; but in whose mouth could it be more strange, than that of the man who was sitting on a throne reeking with the blood of his father? A throne from which no man had descended without blood, from the time of Peter the Great! What entitled such a man to read lectures to nations upon the mode of establishing free government? What made it peculiarly appropriate in him to condemn every thing that originated in force? Haw did it become him to deal in this hypocritical language, and to talk of his love of constitutions and hatred of armies, whose power was founded on force, who had derived the sceptre from the murderer, he would allow it to be, the justified murder of his perent, but at the same time, a murder of violence?".

Singular Custom among the Women at Cumuna.

I remarked a very odd custom among the women of Cumana; they wear neither veils or gloves; thus, with the most agreeable and expres sive shapes and countenances, they have a copper colour. While at Cumans, I offered several pair of gloves, for her and her daughters, to a lany to whom I was under some obligations. She accepted them, but mentioned that neither she nor her daughters could wear them; that it was not the custom at Cumana; that any young lady seen with gloves and weil, would be deemed a fantas. tical coquette, whom no one would marry, and that such fooleries were only fit for the belles and fups of Carracas. While speaking of the Carracas fops I should not omit that it is not unusual to see a portreit of their mistress auspended to their neck by a gold chain, in about the

The ship Electra, Totalh, Robin and Surface on the Blatt Inst.

The ship Electra, Totalh, Robin and Surface on the Blatt Inst.

A Neapolitan Journal of the 16th of Newcastle. She was 43 days from land to land. The day for the coronation of Garas IV below. From the Philadelphia Gazette. coronation of George IV. had not been officially announced on the 14th, when captain Robinson left London. All was quiet in the British isles. Neither the Commercial, the Agricultural nor the Manufac turing Interests had improved, and the desire and determination to emigrate to the United States was again becoming general. The Electra has brought out but 30 passengers-if she had waited but three days, whe might have brought out three times as many. We learn that a party of 80 had applied for a passage and would have come out if bie to have waited a few days. Great anxiety was felt in England as to the success of the Neapolitans. -No account had been received of any battle having been fought between them and the Austrians.

the captain had thought it advisa-

London, March 10. The Paris Journal of Tuesday and Wednesday last arrived this morn. ing. The following are extracts: Paris, March 7.

"Letters from Naples dated the 23d ult. which have arrived by an extraordinary channel, announce that the Austrian army has its advanced guard at Foligno, situated five leagues from Spoletto, and 27 from Rome. The Neapolitans were at Rieti, a town within the Roman States, situated about 11 leagues from Spoletto, and 16 from Rome .-It appears that one of their divisions was on its march to occupy Tivolt-another division had entered upon the marches of Ancona, and has established Municipalities in all the Communes which it had occupied. A levy en masse has been ordained throughout Calabria. Preparations were making at Cozenza to receive the Parliament and Roval Family. The Prince Regent has sent his son, only 11 years of age to head quarters. This young Prince will be presented to the ar my by the Commander in Chief, near whom he will remain. Several Spanish vessels, laden with arms, had entered the bay of Naples.

[Constitutionel. Naples, Feb. 16. "The following is the copy of the Manifesto which his Holiness the Pope has caused to be published in the town of Rieto:-

"The Austrian troops advancethey come as friends-and their march has no other end than to pass into the kingdom of Naples, to reestablish there that peace which, re-conquired after the effusion of so much blood, has again been disturbed in that kingdom by recent events. We exhort all the people of Italy, and the Neapolitans them selves, to receive and to treat them with perfect hospital ty.

"In the sitting of Parliament of the 14th, the Deputy Morici, after expressing himself in indignant terms against the outrage offered his country, concluded as follows:-I feel my frame animated by, all the ardour of youth, and I beg you to grant me leave of absence, that I may fly to the army. . I do not go there to assume any command, but merely to serve in the ranks as a volunteer. I will entreat the General who may command, to let me fire the first shot at the enemy. nere swear never to return to my home, but drag my grey hairs in the dust of the field of battle, if the country is not saved.

"The deputy Concilils-And Ialso fly to the frontier to fight the foes of the Constitution."

"Col. Pepe-I also shall fly thi ther—an impetuous civisme impels me to seek the camps of my country. We shall again see each other in this place, my dear colleagues, if we are not killed."

Vienna, Feb. 24. Much alarm is entertained relatively to the fate of the Royal Pamiy of Naples, since it is found that War can no longer be averted. It the Princess of Salerne, to this capital, and not return to Naples until the war shall be concluded.

The circular of the English gov. ernment respecting the notes of the 3 great powers, on the subject of not to go to Laybath the despate

The Nutional Parliament Declares. Ist. That it has no power to agree to any of the propositions communicated to it on the part of the Ailled Sovereigns, the King of Prussia and the Emperors of Austria and Russia-propositions tending to the destruction of the existing Constitution, and to the occupation of the kingdom.

2d. That it considers, and shall consider, every past and future act of his Majesty, which may be con-trary to the oaths taken by him confirming the constitution, as incapable of being ascribed to his free and uncontrolled will, and therefore, in respect to all such acts, it considers his Majesty in a state of coercion.

3d. That as long as this state of coercion shall continue, the Duke of Calabria, his august son, shall retain the regency, in the mode prescribed in the decree of the 19th Dec 1820.

4th. That in conformity with the deciarations contained in the preceding articles, and with the principles of the Constitution, all measures be taken which shall be nicessary for the safety of the state.

"Frankfort, Feb. 28. "The first act of the plenipotentiaries at the Congress of Laybach was, the decision of the Allied So vereigns on the affairs of Naples .-Papers are expected to appear, of equal importance with that which is probably going to occasion a war in the south of Italy. The accession of Russia to the projects of Aus tria gives rise to very serious conjectures. It is probable we shall soon learn on what subjects the con gress has come to any final resolutions. A Declaration of the sovereigns relative to the affairs of Spain is spoken of, and also that a Russian Envoy is commissioned to go and notify it to the present government of that country. It is much doubted whether this Declaration will be well received by the Cortes.

Paris, March 3. Yesterday, the 2d, there was a Secret Committee of the Chamber of Deputies, in which the Minister for Foreign Affairs was called upon to let the nation know the situation in which France stands with respect to the Kingdom of Naples. Etienne and Generals Foy and Sebastiani delivered speeches which were in the highest degree interest ing, and which affected the whole Chamber. The Minister was hard pushed, but persisted in keeping silence, and would not give any infor mation upon our situation with respect to Naples and Spain; he pleaded the Charter as his authority, which gives to the King the right waiting hall the armed men were of making war and peace. The heard quietly dispersing. speeches delivered in this important sitting are ab ut to be printed .-M. Pasquier has said in private, that France had signed nothing hos tile against Naples, but that it had only consented to pay down to Austria sixteen millions, which were at more distant terms.

March 4. "A letter received in this capital from Naples on Friday evening, states that his Royal Highness the Prince Regent has sent to the Junta of Sicily a proposition to make choice between the Neapolitan Constitution and any other that the Government may think more suitable to that Island. The same despatches announce to the Sicilians. that the Prince Regent recalls the 11,000 Neapolitan troops which are in Sicily. At the departure of the latter, the Neapolitan squadron was under weigh to proceed thither to

"According to news from Italy, it appears that the Prince Regent takes command in chief of the Neapolitan army-he has under his orders' General Carrascosa, who, at the head of three divisions, occupies is thought that the King of Naples San Germano. General Florestan will accompany his daughter in-law, Pepe is at the head of the Prince's Staff. Gen. Wm. Pepe commands the division which occupies the Abrussia, and all the militia of that province: Gen! Bergami is Goverupr of Gacta, and is at the head of the Congress of Troppay and that Fondi Gen. Arcovito is at Terra. of Montfaucon ?... of Laybach was read here with some cina with another division. Gensame manner as a Parisian or Lon No certain news has been received by agold chain, in about the surprise.

No certain news has been received by the departure for anight, who refused hospitality to made at their last meeting don bean wears a glass, to assist his ed here about events at Neples sinke, injured no doubt, by the attitude convocation of the Parlianens banquet at Napley, where the most affacted those inoffensive afficted to the governor and pound of novels and late hours.

In Hells assemble,

King of Prussis has inally resolved stones.

Aunapolist Thursday, May S.

FEDERAL REPUBLICAN Electural Ticket for Prince George's NICHOLAS SNOITHEN, GEORGE SE, WAKE.

For Somerset. THOMAS K. CABROLL, Col. THUMAS DASHIELL.

Assembly Ticket for Somerset, Levin R. King, Littleton P. Dennis, Daniel Ballard, John Waters.

[Translated from the German.] For the Maryland Gazette. SINTRAM & HIS COMPANIONS (Continued.)

CHAPTER 14.

A gloomy foreboding of dreadful events seemed to hover over the cas tle. all its inmates, even the mighty Baron of Montfaucon too, were fill ed with dublous apprehensions, and led by the heavy musing of this unsociable humour they had retired, long before Sintram returned.

Poor old Ro.f had continued without in the wild forest, waiting for the return of his master, and exposing his snow white head to the fury of the elements, he thought of nought but his duty. But Sintram returned not by that way; long after the first dawn of day he entered the castle from the opposite side.

Mild sleep had refreshed Gabriela during the night. It was as if an angel stad with his golden pinions fanned far away the horrid tale of the evening, as if he had traced before her view a luxuriant landscape rich and blooming like her home. adorned with flowery plains and timpid lakes and all the mazy charms of rising hills and groves. She smil ed mildly, she breathed quietly whilst the magick storm howled through the aged forest and combated the frightened sea.

But when she woke at morn, when she saw the wild dark clouds as if dissolved in smoke and hazy vapour, hurled round and round by the storm, when she heard that Montfaucon clad in heavy armour had left his apartments early in the morning, she had well nigh wept with apprehension and sorrow. At the same time she heard in her antirooms the heavy steps of armed warriors, & she was told that the Baron had ordered all his men to be ready to protect their lady. Wrept in her pelice of snow white ermine, she appeared in her fear, like a tender flower blooming up out of the snow and shaken by the wintry blast. But soon the nole Folko entered her chamber in all the beauty of his shining panoply, ie held the golden helmst adorned with waving plumes, under his arm, and saluted her with mild but serious serenity. A look of his-and Gabriela's train retired, in the Ladyl said he, conducting her to a seat and placing himself at her side, lady will you pardon your knight if he left you for a few mo ments to anxiety and uneasinessbut honour called him and strictest justice-Now every thing is settled peaceably and quietly, forget your apprehensions, and whatsoever they may have been let them sleep with those things that never were.

"But you and sir Biorn wereasked Gabriela.

Upon my knightly word of honour tis all well. Forko began then with his customary suavity and grace to converse of indifferent but pleasing things, till Gabriela deeply, affected, pressed her head to his bosom and

"Oh Folko, my hero, protector me know all. But if thy pledged question whether we shall could word doth hind thee then I submit the present rolers in office, and the race of Portamour, and that I am of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of Portamour, and that I alike repugnant to principle of the race of th and dearest love, if thou mayest, let would ask nought of my knight that could breath the slightest atain upon his bright escutcheon."

"It is not that I am bound to silence," said Folkovery serious, bout many professions and pleages will the meaning of the many professions and pleages will thou he able to hear, the last and th

many professions fand pledges in the forces situated between Strr and let me now add that I am the apouse

Be it then said Folko. Know ye then my dear lady, the witked than the bold attempt whi contemplated his dear, none p wife with heart felt pleasurer day with the hist dawn fin down to him, and called him ball combat upon life and ueath; hid ne were the man, whose chile o have been the sepulchre of Githard and Rudlib. He stood sin dy steel-clad in his chamber, and re plied only, I am he-then we ver out into the forest. But whis a nad r ached a place proper for the hight, he hurled his shield far fren him down a headlong steep the flew his sword the same way, the with gigantick grasp he tore ain der his hauberk and erleit out-Plunge in your sword within by breast, for I am an old, a deep w. render, and may not fight again-It occasioned an odd reconciliation -He made himself in a manner by vassal, but I released him in the name of my friends, and my own, d all his offence. He was crushed but not a tear appeared in his eya not a conciliating word escaped tip. He was pressed down by the same great power which fornibel me with strength. I know not lay whether you wish now to continue in this castle any longer; if this be, and as this storm may delay our departure for some time, we sal seek another, for I know then't none in Norway would refuse u honourable reception, Bucling fraid that, were we now to part, would break the old man's heart. "Wherever my noble lord dwill I shall gladly remain under his pritection, said Gabriela, and felt he heart deeply penetrated with lon and admiration for her great Mon-

(To be Continued.)

one; but when we view the S of the poor. In all of they have been described.

ber election as deciding the fits the state, I troat for ever and i wer in the negative. Let then in every county in the follow the example of Prince ges, who is about to retrie character—bring out their mo From the Federal Republican Conmunicated. fluential and popular men, Marlborough Prince-George every nerve, and the vause is county, April 15, 1811 Let every county rely on it exertions—Let every federali When it was known that Mi Semmes and Mr. Snowden were the and act as if the late of the federal candidates for the electoral and the well being of his frien his family depended on his over ertions and on his own vote, the duty of federalists of infl college, the democrats were not a little dis oncerted. The general indisposition of those two gents men to sacrifice their domestic cos however they may desire retir forts, and enter the list in political nowever tired they may be o controversy, induced the hope the ic life, however imminent e, to come out on this occa-heir country, their liberty, serve; and the democratic cate dates were nominated under this dates were nominated under the expectations. Mr. Semmes and the Snowden have however, yielder the solicitations of their friest, a have thus inspired us with the fidence that their exertions will sure success, notwithstanding the osterity require it of them. lave but to will it, to make ort, bold, unanimous and det d, and the thing is done. nan, calling himself a feder riend; to his country and a will have to contend against the fluence of governors, members congress and judges, whose still only equalled by their bitterest Some doubts are entertained was they she downtoned. sure success. not with standing me children, will hesitate contrary course will lead nevitable ruin of every thing le in society. ther the democrats will not received Lient. Stephen Decatur M.K. Of the navy was on boar les ship Essexy in her cru be Pacific; was a party to th ing premature, and particulat since they have not been as well ceived as they could have miles Some gentlemen who looked in the to the honour, have been to chagrined at not being present serve; but a compromise will a doubt put things right in this spect and those who were due pointed as electors, may be been ted to run for the legislature all events the contest will be a week.

n which terminated in her candidecame, in consequence, one to Capt. Hillyar, of the shifting terminated in her candidecame, in consequence, one to Capt. Hillyar, of the shifting terminated in the capt. Hillyar, by white the capt. Hillyar, by white the capt. Hillyar, by white cartel, to the United cartel, to the United d there they safely arrived it was necessary to the coulon of the Essex, in a l miralty court that san af ould be mide by one of hire. Lt. M. Knight, for the re proceeded in the Phobis aparaiso to Rio Janeiro, vet making the rechifed of processing a certificate processing of his word ly exchanged, he sailed in 14 in the Swedish brig and to England; this bein fed the most speedy way sching the U. States. As ives and friends, after longity indulging the hope of n, were at length conste eve that there could be no his safety, and conclude velded in which he had c

upon to rise in their strengt

o make an effort commens

with the importance of the

they are about to embark in-a ia which mothing less is invo deeply and vitally involved.

their honour, their interest, families and posterity. They nothing to expect from their cal adversaries, the democrats

any evidence of this be wantin

sions of the Legislature and conduct of the Executive.

have been proscribed, traduced enceringly told to take place i

"rear." Their best excitions to mote the honour, welf re and perity of the state have been the ed, and their conduct misrepre

ed. The democrats have atte ed, to take to themselves the dit of acts exclusively the rig Federalists, we allude here t conduct of Governor Sprigg.

deavouring, with the aid of panders and sycophants, to ta himself the credit of the arr

ment with the war depart

which exclusively belonged to Kerr, a federalist, and by w

very large sum of money was s and actually received into the sury of the state. They have from office every federalist, e

a few indeed left on the list of tices of the ceace, with the

an ffice now, with some excep made a sort of pention for exec

Let ederalists look to-things, and ask themselves, h

the power to prevent it, whithey will submit? They must paupers.